5. How Amazon Works – Business Model

The Amazon Flywheel

Amazon operates on the 'flywheel' concept coined by Jeff Bezos, inspired by Jim Collins' book Good to Great. The flywheel is a self-reinforcing growth loop: lower prices attract more customers → more customers attract more third-party sellers → more sellers increase product selection and lower prices → this attracts even more customers → Amazon can use the resulting scale to reduce costs → enabling even lower prices.

Revenue Streams

Revenue Stream	Mechanism	2023 Share
Online Retail (1P)	Amazon buys inventory, sells directly to consumers	~21%
Third-Party Seller Fees	15% referral fee + FBA fees from 3P sellers	~24%
AWS Cloud Services	Pay-as-you-go cloud infrastructure	~16%
Advertising	Sponsored products, display ads, DSP	~8%
Prime Subscriptions	$139/yr (US) membership fee	~7%
Physical Stores	Whole Foods, Amazon Go, Amazon Fresh	~4%
Other (devices, licensing)	Kindle, Echo hardware + content licensing	~3%

Fulfillment & Logistics Network

- Amazon operates 200+ fulfillment centers and 1,000+ delivery stations globally
- Fulfillment by Amazon (FBA): Third-party sellers store products in Amazon warehouses; Amazon handles packing, shipping, and returns
- Amazon Logistics (AMZL): Amazon's own last-mile delivery network, reducing dependence on UPS/FedEx
- Amazon Air (Prime Air): Cargo airline fleet of 80+ Boeing aircraft for air freight
- Amazon Robotics: 750,000+ robots deployed in fulfillment centers for picking, packing, and moving goods
- Same-Day & 2-Hour delivery available in major US cities via Prime
- Amazon Flex: Gig-economy drivers using their own vehicles for last-mile delivery
- Drone delivery (Prime Air): Ongoing trials in select US markets

Amazon's 16 Leadership Principles

Amazon's culture is defined by its 16 Leadership Principles (LPs), which are embedded in hiring, performance reviews, and daily decision-making. Every employee is expected to embody them.

- 1. Customer Obsession – Leaders start with the customer and work backwards
- 2. Ownership – Leaders act on behalf of the entire company, never 'that's not my job'
- 3. Invent and Simplify – Leaders expect and require innovation from their teams
- 4. Are Right, A Lot – Leaders have strong judgment and good instincts
- 5. Learn and Be Curious – Leaders are never done learning
- 6. Hire and Develop the Best – Raise the performance bar with every hire
- 7. Insist on the Highest Standards – Leaders have relentlessly high standards
- 8. Think Big – Thinking small is a self-fulfilling prophecy
- 9. Bias for Action – Speed matters; many decisions are reversible
- 10. Frugality – Accomplish more with less; constraints breed resourcefulness
- 11. Earn Trust – Leaders listen attentively and speak candidly
- 12. Dive Deep – Leaders operate at all levels and stay connected to details
- 13. Have Backbone; Disagree and Commit – Respectfully challenge decisions
- 14. Deliver Results – Focus on key inputs and deliver with the right quality
- 15. Strive to Be Earth's Best Employer – Create a safe, productive environment
- 16. Success and Scale Bring Broad Responsibility – Act with a long-term view
